Programmes for Student Groups

For those who would like to organise a group of students to come to London we would be pleased to design a programme for you. As the London experts, we can include an exciting mix of tuition, accommodation, airport transfers, activities and excursions. Our location in Kensington, central London, minutes from world-famous attractions is perfect to explore London and take advantage of numerous educational opportunities.

GUIDELINES FOR GROUP LEADERS

Our detailed Guidelines for Group Leaders ensures good communications during group programmes and covers:

- Responsibilities
- Communications
- Detailed procedures for student induction and management
- Student welfare, safeguarding of under 18s, health and safety and emergencies
- What to do before travel to the UK

We have designed many successful bespoke programmes for educational agents, universities, language schools, colleges, primary schools, secondary/high schools, government departments, embassies and companies.

Programmes can range from English and sightseeing activities to a focus on projects or educational and professional needs.

CASE STUDIES

We have designed programmes for different student ages and needs from all over the world. Here are some examples.

- Groups of Financial Police officers from Italy – we designed a programme to improve officers' use of English for international communication and to succeed in internal language proficiency examinations. As another benefit, officers' partners and children were able to join our family programme.
- Groups of young learners from Chile – we designed an inclusive programme that included a sightseeing programme covering London highlights for a once in a lifetime study holiday.
- Japanese university student groups – we designed a flexible programme of language and activities that enabled the university to also offer dedicated outreach activities.
- Italian corporation employees – we designed a business English programme focussed on participants' role, with a mini group course in London and online lessons once students had returned home.

“As an agent since 1998, cooperation with Frances King has always been great with their friendly and professional approach to ensure the best experience for all my groups. The whole team is very kind and welcoming. Highly recommended for anyone who is looking for quality, reliability and supportive customer service.”
